Inkaterra is a luxury boutique retreat located at the entrance of Machu Picchu Pueblo (Aguas Calientes), the gateway to the sacred Incan city of Machu Picchu. Set within more than 13 acres of spectacular grounds laced with paths that wind past waterfalls, and private tropical gardens and wild forest, take the opportunity to observe and discover the local fauna and flora of your surroundings such as native orchids, and look out for the many birds and butterfly species. The Citadel of Machu Picchu, one of the New 7 Wonders of the World, is only 15 minutes away, and other excursions include nature walks, the Inca Trail and trips to local museums and markets. Rooms feature handmade alpaca blankets, crackling fireplaces and spa-style bathrooms. And after a long day, relax and sample the cuisine at either the Café Inkaterra where fusion-style food is available or in the main dining room and bar.
